

SanIndus her technology use the current authentication/authorization structures and not bring a new authentication/authorization structures in. Users access and rights just stay managed by the already in the organization operational authentication/authorization system (mostly Active Directory or -in high performance networks like US Mil- E-Dir/NDS).